Felicitations

On the auspicious occasion of the 70th Annual Day of the National Police Academy, I extend my heartfelt congratulations and best wishes to the Executive Director, academicians, officers, trainers, and trainees of the Academy. This significant milestone marks seven decades of dedicated service and unwavering commitment to producing professional, disciplined, and competent leadership for the Nepal Police.

I also take this opportunity to commend the National Police Academy on the publication of the 29th edition of PRERANA, which serves as a credible academic platform reflecting the Academy's institutional legacy, professional knowledge, and notable contributions to police training and capacity development.

This edition of PRERANA aptly illustrates the systematic transformation of young police cadets into capable, motivated, and service-oriented officers. I express my sincere appreciation to the editorial team for their dedicated efforts in presenting the training journey of the Nepal Police in a refined and engaging manner.

I am confident that PRERANA will continue to inspire officers and trainees to uphold the core values of the Nepal Police and contribute meaningfully to the enhancement of professional standards and institutional excellence. I convey my best wishes to the entire National Police Academy family for continued success and extend my sincere appreciation to all those involved in bringing out this publication.

Felicitations

On this historic and auspicious occasion of the 70th Anniversary of the National Police Academy (NPA), it is a matter of profound pride and honor to reflect upon the distinguished journey of this premier institution. Over its seven decades of service, Academy has stood as a symbolic intellectual and moral cornerstone of the Nepal Police, shaping generations of officers required to carry out the statutory responsibilities of preventing and investigating crime along with maintaining public law and order.

The Academy has remained instrumental in fostering human and institutional capacities through rigorous training programs aligned with organizational objectives aimed at achieving excellence in public service delivery. The effectiveness of the internal security system lies in the professional competence, ethical conduct and service oriented mindset cultivated in every officer by NPA through its different specialized units. The Academy has systematically integrated context-oriented technologies and real-scenario based exercises to ensure operational relevance and high effectiveness in preparing officers for the complex demands of modern public service. With the objective of cultivating visionary leaders for the future, the Police Leadership and Staff Course has been introduced. The ongoing development of fully equipped infrastructure at Kavre represents another significant milestone in setting and sustaining standards of quality. Beyond its core mandate, the Academy continues to foster social cohesion and public trust actively contributing to the sporting arena and elevating the national profile on the global stage. On this platinum jubilee landmark, I am honored to announce the establishment of a dedicated Physical Training and Sports School, created to further enhance the legacy and performance of athletes.

As the Executive Director of this Academy, I wish to assure that officers cultivated by this institute are not operationally proficient but also intellectually sound, morally upright and responsive for the evolving expectations of a democratic society. Without allowing any compromise to the efforts, initiative and achievements made along this journey to date, I hereby assure that NPA will remain guided by its resilience, strategic vision and an unwavering commitment to excellence and continuously renovate its curriculum, integration of adult learning theories, evidence-based training programs for transformative change and will uphold the standards and quality of education ensuring comprehensive professional and occupational development.

Finally, I extend my heartfelt tribute and sincere appreciation to all serving and retired personnel, Alumni, their families and every individual who has contributed in its remarkable and proud legacy of honor, discipline and service. I also extend my sincere congratulations and appreciation to all police personnel involved in this publication for their dedicated service and meticulous efforts in bringing 29th edition of PRERANA to its present form.

EDITORIAL

The National Police Academy (NPA), as a family of excellence, proudly commemorates its 70th Anniversary. With great honor, we present the 29th publication of PRERANA on this momentous occasion, where we pause to reflect on our legacy of service, professional brilliance, and an unwavering commitment to cultivating the nation's true servants. Seven decades of dedication to shaping ethical, professional, and community-oriented officers now stand as the historic bedrock for our future journey as we continue to navigate the evolution of this organization. This edition does not celebrate only the enduring journey of "Seventy Years of Raising the True Guardians of the Nation," but also resonates with our efforts to modernize training systems in alignment with the challenges of the digital era and evolving societal aspirations. The integration of innovation and technology, the refinement of evidence-based curricula, and the strengthening of human development through "extra-mega" infrastructure are exemplary testaments to our forward-looking vision. As an apex institution for enhancing professional standards, the Academy has increasingly embraced social constructivist theory and learner-Centred, experience-based adult learning pedagogies, combining innovative teaching methods with technology-based platforms to ensure our training remains world-class. Detailed narratives, thoughtfully curated photographs, and data-driven infographics showcased in this edition document our spectacular advancements with both simplicity and accuracy. This showcase of consistency and standardization across the National Police Training Framework would remain incomplete without mentioning the invaluable contributions of our Provincial Training Centres and Specialized Training Institutions. To develop the leaders of tomorrow, the Inspector Basic Training and various professional development courses constitute the fundamental operational focus of the NPA. By offering deep insights into training methodologies and evaluation through visual presentations, this edition captures the aspirations of our youth and the transformation of a person into a warrior for the nation. We believe this edition of PRERANA is not only a record of history but a guide for the future—a source of inspiration and a glorious celebration of our Platinum Jubilee. It acknowledges the victories of our police athletes and serves as a signature tribute to the retiring Commandants and police officers who have been a constant source of encouragement. Guided by the principles of Truth, Service, and Security, the NPA remains committed to developing disciplined and accountable personnel. The editorial team extends its heartfelt gratitude to all who supported this publication, and we look forward to continuing our journey of excellence with renewed resolution in the years to come.

Introduction...

then...

now... &

next...

Established in 1956 and formalized in 1993, the National Police Academy (NPA), Kathmandu, is the premier institution for Nepal Police training. Evolving from the Central Police Training Centre, it has transitioned from basic force-centric instruction to a "Centre of Excellence" emphasizing democratic policing, human rights, and professional integrity. The NPA provides comprehensive education, ranging from specialized training for technical officers to its prestigious Post Graduate Diploma in Police Science. As the organization's apex training body, it serves as a custodian of modern policing standards, fostering leadership, crime investigation skills, and national sports excellence. Facing a globalized landscape of trans-border crime and AI-driven threats, the NPA is currently undergoing a digital and physical transformation. Future-oriented initiatives include the development of simulation villages, digital learning platforms, and research-based curricula. Committed to international standards, the Academy focuses on producing ethically grounded, technically proficient officers capable of ensuring public safety and the rule of law. By strengthening national and international collaborations, the NPA strives to remain a hub for innovation and academic excellence, inspiring a culture of adaptability and professionalism within the Nepal Police.

Motto

Wisdom, Duty and Excellence

Vision

To be a “Centre for Excellence” in the field of police training in the country and abroad.

Mission

To train and develop law enforcement human resource capable of serving people with the highest standards of professionalism and integrity.

Objectives

The National Police Academy is the apex police training entity in the wider landscape of police training facilities in the country. Its goal is to develop qualified human resources capable of discharging their duties with plan to achieve organizational and individual objectives with a strong sense of commitment and responsibility to serve the people. The main objectives of NPA are:

- To conduct foundation training courses targeting the senior police officers and technical police officers,
- To develop qualified police instructors necessary for the police-training environment and provide consultancy services,
- To offer and undertake advanced training courses for senior police officers in the sphere of crime investigation, leadership, management and administration, community policing, etc.,
- To set and maintain training benchmark for all police training institutions across the country,
- To extend prospective and substantive relationship with the universities in the relevant subjects and to award academic degrees to trainees,
- To organize workshops, seminars, symposiums, conferences and short course in the policing issues,
- To assist Nepal Police Headquarters in the formulation of training policies and annual training calendar,
- To carry out relevant research activities in matters pertaining to police and develop institutional analytical capability.

Visionary's Lock : A Tribute to Legacy

True visionaries see beyond the horizon of their own era. IGP Khadga Jeet Baral (Retd.) was the architect who redefined the standards of Police training by introducing Judo to the Academy. It was never just about teaching a martial arts technique; his vision was to strengthen the very organization from within. This instilled a culture of discipline, resilience, and tactical excellence within the Nepal Police.

Mobile Training

The Mobile Training Program, implemented in 2073 B.S., was designed to provide essential training to police personnel from the rank of Police Constable to Senior Head Constable within a compact period. The program aims to update personnel with enhanced knowledge and skills, thereby strengthening their professional competence. The Mobile Training Program plays a significant role in preparing police personnel for future opportunities and ensuring their readiness to address evolving challenges in law enforcement. It not only supports career development but also contributes to improving overall operational efficiency within the police service.

Metamorphosis : Officer in the Making

The journey at the NPA is a profound metamorphosis a transformative process in which the civilian self is shed to reveal a disciplined officer. This evolution is an amalgamation of intellectual enrichment and the rigors of the field to build robust yet sensitive officers, capable of navigating the complexities of modern policing with both authority and integrity.

Familiarization

Revalidating Excellence: Instructor Proficiency Test (IPT)

At the National Police Academy, the title of 'Instructor' is not a one-time win, but a continuous journey of merit. Every three years, our outdoor instructors step back into the field to undergo the Instructor Proficiency Test (IPT). This rigorous re-certification proves that mastery is a standard we must constantly defend.

The Mind of the Academy: Mentors and Leaders

True leadership at the Academy is measured by the wisdom passed from one generation to the next. This section honors the senior officers who serve as the intellectual engine of our institution, providing the vision that shapes every cadet's future. Through regular lectures briefings and personal guidance, these mentors and leaders transform abstract principles into operational excellence.

Unbound Resilience : Valor Beyond the Boundaries

This is where the “fire of the field” meets the real world : 'Unbound Resilience' is the spirit of duty that carries an officer beyond the Academy gates. It is Valor beyond boundaries proving that the discipline locked and skill embedded into our personality with in these walls empower us to overcome the fear and serve as nation’s shield in times of crisis.

The Bond of the Beret : Anchors of Unity

The training at the National Police Academy is purposefully designed to break down 'I' and build the "We". This invisible thread of brotherhood is not formed in a single classroom session. Instead, it is forged in the sweat of competition, the quiet of a shared meal, the rhythm of the morning air and the resounding claps and songs that echo before rollcall. These are the anchors that bind us as one.

The Strategic Vanguard: Cultivating the Intellectual Edge

A significant milestone in our 70-years journey, the Police Leadership and Staff Course (PLSC) which comprises of Professional Leadership Course (PLC) and Masters of Police Sciences (MPS) program at the Nepal Police Staff College is a prestigious new feather in the Academy's hat. It represents a vital layer of intellectual enrichment, designed to transition seasoned officers into strategic thinkers.

The Architecture of Training: Pillars for Excellence

The National Police Academy serves as the central hub, supported by a robust architecture of specialized and grassroots units. This network consists of three specialized training units each a Centre of excellence for advanced knowledge, skill, and attitude. Extending this reach further are one valley and seven provinces. Seven provincial grassroots training centres, ensuring that the same high standards of discipline and professional skills are delivered at every corner of the nation. Together these units form pillars supporting our training mission.

Furthermore, the institution plays a pivotal role in the preliminary selection process for JCOs and other ranks, ensuring that only the most competent and qualified candidates are inducted into the service. Committed to the highest standards of excellence, KVPTS is instrumental in shaping the professional capabilities of personnel dedicated to maintaining the security of the Kathmandu Valley.

The Crafts of the Specialists : Operational Mastery

The National Police Academy recognizes modern policing requires more than law enforcement, it requires specialized artistry and elite technical skills. The Academy supports the operational units to conduct advanced operational training on Disaster Management, Canine Intelligence, Music and Information Technology. These trainings cultivate a niche expertise that defines Academy's institutional character, saves lives and supports law enforcement.

The Unified Bridge for Excellence : Cooperation

Our mission is built on a unified bridge that connects local duty with global excellence. Nationally, we coordinate as one team to strengthen our foundation and ensure a shared line of defense. Internationally, the NPA transcends geographical boundaries to facilitate the exchange of specialized knowledge, tactical, and professional collaboration.

Beyond Drill: The Heartbeat of the Academy

The buildings and walls of Academy are more than just brick and mortar; they turned lively with the warmth of its personnel's. Beyond drills, this heartbeat is felt through various events: from the warm welcome of new recruits and Executive Director to the pride of the NPA Day. The beat gets heavier as we bid farewell to our seniors and fellow officers. These moments of celebration and transitions bind us together, ensuring 70 years of legacy of unified service lives on.
